Capture a handcrafted, artisan appearance that is inspired by twentieth-century Spain with our Novecento Collection. With hand-painted crackle watercolor glazes, this ceramic tile collection offers glossy, reflective finishes for a glass-like appearance. Asymmetrical edges and a smooth surface with varying indentations throughout these glossy tiles fashions a handmade appearance. Derived from the classic subway format, the products in this collection are tastefully smaller for a distinctive, unexpected design element. With both patterned and field tiles, as well as trims, these tiles are great as a cohesive look or for mixing and matching within the series to create a custom design for any setting.

Capturing the simplicity of mid-century modern design, our Palm Hex Solid Collection is a subtle infusion of soft color and shape. Tiles in our Palm Collection are bicottura or double-fired, which ensures each tile is precisely calibrated to allow for installation consistency and the use of tighter grout joints. The second firing of the tile creates a stunning rich glazing effect that cannot be achieved with a single fire process. These tiles are also mono-color, meaning the colors remain consistent between production runs.
